Leslie Hardy Wins Bee

City Champ, 4 Others Await County Spelldown

ON TO COUNTY SPELLING BEE—Leslie Hardy (center), 8th grade Junior High School student, proudly displays the five silver dollars he was awarded in winning the city-wide spelling bee championship Thursday. At far left is Robert Moore, also a Salem Junior High 8th grader, the runner-up, while Jay Hunston of McKinley School, the third place winner is at extreme right. Kitty Purrington (left rear) was the fourth place winner, and Beverly Callahan (right rear) was awarded fifth place. All five will now advance to the County Bee in Lisbon April 7.

Insertion of an "e" before the "d" in the word "chowder" cost Salem's defending spelling champ a chance to repeat and helped establish a new city public schools spelling champion at the final spelldown at the Junior High School auditorium Thursday afternoon.

Winning the city bee this year was Leslie Hardy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Moore of 665 E. 4th St.

The two finalists are 8th grade students at the Salem Junior High School.

Kennedy Issues Warning on Laos

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy looked hopefully to Soviet Premier Khrushchev today to call a halt to the Soviet-backed rebel offensive in Laos and avert mounting danger of a U.S.-Soviet military showdown in Southeast Asia.

But behind-the-scenes preparations were reported continuing here and at far-flung U.S. military bases for greater intervention on the side of the pro-Western Laotian government if hopes for a negotiated settlement collapse in the next few days.

The United States has obligations under the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO) to deal with aggression in Laos, Kennedy told a news conference Thursday night, "and no one should doubt our resolution on this point."

Kennedy expressed confidence that the country would back his decisions, made in concert with the SEATO allies, to act if necessary. He declared "every American will want his country to honor its obligations to the point that freedom and security of the free world and ourselves may be achieved."

Secretary of State Dean Rusk is flying to Bangkok, Thailand, today for a crucial meeting of SEATO foreign ministers at which allied plans for forceful action are expected to be developed.

Kennedy declared a three-point U.S. policy on the Laotian crisis, giving Khrushchev a plain but softly spoken warning that Soviet-backed military attacks "must end if peace is to be achieved in Southeast Asia."

Using huge, colored maps of the little jungle kingdom, the President showed how the Communist-run Pathet Lao held only a few small border areas last August and how they have spread their control, with Soviet help, over much of the northern and eastern sections of the country.

Against this threat of a Communist takeover, the President thus defined the present American position on the crisis:

1. The United States supports without reservation "the goal of a neutral and independent Laos, tied to no outside power or group of powers, threatening no one, and free from any domination."

This position, the President implied, should now be clear to all nations including the Soviet Union.

2. If there is to be a peaceful solution for the crisis "there must be a cessation of the present armed attacks by externally supported Communists."

Kennedy added that "if these attacks do not stop, those who support a truly neutral Laos will have to consider their response."

3. The United States is "earnestly in favor" of international negotiations "which can help Laos back to the pathway of independence and genuine neutrality."

Specifically the United States supports British proposals to the Soviet Union for a prompt end of the fighting to be followed by an international conference.

As if speaking directly to Khrushchev, the President added on this last point: "We are always conscious of the obligation which rests upon all members of the United Nations to seek peaceful solutions to problems of this sort. We hope that others may be equally aware of this responsibility."

Throughout the statement, with which he opened his news conference, Kennedy stressed his theme of hope and desire for a peaceful outcome of the conflict.

He appeared to be dealing with the situation on the theory he endorsed when he took office two months ago: "Talk softly and carry a big stick."

Officials privately conceded afterward that though he did not talk about it directly, the "big stick" is a vital part of his policy. It is common knowledge in official quarters that military preparations are under way, as exemplified by the sudden departure of the aircraft carrier Midway Thursday from Hong Kong.

Kennedy declined to say anything about these preparations at his news conference, though he made no effort to deny them.

His purpose in thus playing down the action side of his policy appears to be to avoid the appearance of threatening the Soviet Union or seeming to hurl a challenge. He is reported convinced that if Khrushchev gives the word the fighting will stop in Laos.

Red Delegate Cool to West's A-Ban Offers

Believed Waiting For Word From Premier Khrushchev

GENEVA (AP)—The marathon three-power nuclear test ban talks are expected to carry on another week before the Soviets give any official response to the new Western plan to break the stalemate.

Soviet delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin so far has showed a distinct coolness to the joint U.S.-British compromise proposals but he said he would hear them out without saying an official word.

Tsarapkin was chairman of today's session—the 27th since the negotiations began 2½ years ago.

U.S. Takes Initiative
U.S. delegate Arthur H. Dean has taken the initiative since resumption of the talks Monday after a three-month recess. Each day he discussed in detail an other point in the program.

Western sources say it will take Dean at least eight more days to spell out the new Western proposals for a treaty banning testing of nuclear weapons.

Talking with newsmen outside the wood-paneled conference room of the Palace of Nations, Tsarapkin said he detected "a slight advance" in some aspects of the Western proposals. But he asserted that they contained "too many conditions, too many ifs."

The general belief is that the Soviet delegate is waiting for word from Moscow before taking a definite stand, leaving Premier Khrushchev room to maneuver on the Soviet position until the last minute.

West Submits Offer

While standing firm for writing into any treaty strict provisions for policing the ban on nuclear testing, the Western powers have made offers toward meeting previous Soviet demands.

They agreed to East-West parity in the control commission, complete partnership in testing programs for peaceful industrial purposes and seismic research and offered to scale down the number of permanent control posts on Soviet territory.

Dean made what he called a "New Frontier" offer Thursday in asking the Soviet Union to join the West in a program of harnessing nuclear power for major earth-moving projects to benefit all mankind.

Jobless Aid Bill Vetoed by DiSalle

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle has vetoed the Ohio jobless benefits extender bill, which he says "was born of an attempt to take advantage of the misery of the people."

Majority Republicans in the legislature lack the three-fifths vote needed to override the veto.

The bill would have given Ohio's jobless an extra 13 weeks of compensation after they had exhausted the regular 26-week benefit period.

Democrats said a number of provisions in the Republican-sponsored bill "crippled" it.

However, all hope is not gone for the state's long-time unemployed. President Kennedy is expected momentarily to sign a federal benefits extender bill which

Former Warren Officer Shot

Four Questioned By Authorities

WARREN, Ohio AP — Four men were being questioned today in the shooting of Richard Stanley, 38-year-old former Warren policeman who served a year in the Ohio Penitentiary for burglary.

Stanley was shot three times at his home Thursday night by an unidentified assailant.

Police Sgt. Gerald Coulter said known associates of Stanley in the past are being questioned, but no charges have been filed.

Stanley, 38, was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital in Youngstown where he underwent brain surgery. His condition was termed critical.

Police said Stanley was shot in the head, shoulder and chest by someone who knocked on the front door of his second-floor apartment.

The former policeman, dropped from the force in 1957 for "conduct unbecoming an officer," was sentenced two years later to 1-20 years in prison for burglary. While in prison, Stanley was returned to Warren and testified for the state at the trials of two men held in a $20,000 liquor store holdup. One of them, Joseph (Fats) Aiello, of Youngstown, was acquitted.

Stanley pleaded guilty to one charge of burglary—of the Warren Sanitary Milk Co. in 1956 — and turned state's evidence against some other defendants. He had been accused as a member of a burglary-safecracking ring.

The Ohio Highway Patrol broadcast an alert Thursday night for two different cars. One was for a 1953 or 1954 black Buick with Michigan license plates. It said

Minimum Pay Measure Faces Vote In House

Compromise Bill Makes Concessions On New Coverage

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Democratic leadership steered a patched-up minimum wage bill toward a vote today in a sharply divided House.

The compromise measure retains the two-step raise from $1-an-hour to $1.25 requested by President Kennedy but makes major concessions to the opposition in the field of new coverage.

Put Together Thursday

It was put together Thursday in a dramatic last-minute huddle in the office of Speaker Sam Rayburn while the debate raged on the House floor.

Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg and White House aide Lawrence O'Brien took part in the hastily called conference with Rayburn, Rep. Adam C. Powell, D-N.Y., chairman of the House Labor Committee, and Rep. James Roosevelt, D-Calif., floor leader for the bill.

Also present was Rep. Carl Vinson, D-Ga., who apparently holds the key to success of the compromise effort.

Lined Up Against Bill

Southern Democrats and Republicans have lined up almost solidly against the administration's original bill. If Vinson supports the compromise the leadership hopes enough Southerners will follow him to put it over.

Vinson left the conference in Rayburn's office early and refused to disclose his stand. He asked for a copy of the compromise for further study.

Vinson earlier had agreed to another compromise plan in the furious backstage maneuvering that has marked the course of the minimum wage bill through the House. That would have kept the 25-cent wage increase but cut new coverage to 1.4 million persons under an entirely different approach.

The new compromise also alters the approach to extended coverage suggested by the administration, requiring that any retail and service concerns covered must depend for at least 25 per cent of their annual business on interstate commerce.

The new bill also would exempt from coverage any branch of a retail chain that does less than $250,000 annual business, no matter how much the whole chain grosses.

Kroger Burglars Steal Foodstuffs

An unknown quantity of foodstuffs—mostly meat—was stolen from the Kroger Co. supermarket on E. State St. early this morning when entry was gained into the store through a small hole chiseled in the east wall of the building.

The sheriff's department, working on the case with Perry Township Constable John Herman, said the thieves stole a car from the Amoco Service Station next to the supermarket, discarded the two seats of the car by dumping them near the refreshment stand of the Salem Drive-In theater and used the seat space to haul away the stolen loot.

The stolen car was found by Deputy Sheriff Cy Wellman abandoned near the intersection of the Franklin Square and Lisbon roads this morning. Deputy Howard Gray said it appears that the thieves used two cars in the robbery the stolen auto and their own vehicle.

The hole used by the thieves to enter the store measured only 23x15 inches.

Constable Herman said he made his routine check of the supermarket shortly after midnight and everything appeared normal. Therefore, officials investigating the case believe the theft occurred sometime between 1:30 and 5 a.m.

The amount of food stolen will not be known until a complete inventory is taken. Store Manager Murray Stone said. However, it is believed that some 200 pounds of meat was taken.

The sheriff's department is continuing the investigation.

JFK Warns Debt Limitation Must Be Hiked

Advices Congress No Surplus Exists In Inherited Budget

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy broke the bad budget news to Congress today—two years of red ink financing for an apparent combined deficit of $5 billion, sending the national debt to new records.

In a special budget message, Kennedy discarded as "over-optimistic" the January estimates of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, who forecast a slim $80 million surplus this year and a $1.5 surplus in fiscal 1962, starting July 1.

No Surplus in Budget

There is no surplus in the inherited Eisenhower budget for 1961, Kennedy advised Congress. It is "over $2 billion" out of balance, he said. The actual estimate is $2.2 billion. It means the debt limit must be raised again, the President said.

The surplus heralded for fiscal 1962 has become a $1.8 billion deficit on the civilian side alone, Kennedy announced. He said the Eisenhower administration, which never admitted there was a recession, based its revenue estimate on "a much rosier economy."

Officials said Kennedy's military program, plus revised estimates of the cost of defense programs, will send the total 1962 deficit beyond $3 billion and swell the public debt by mid-1962 to a record of about $290 billion.

No Tax Cut Indication

Nowhere in this message was there the slightest indication of a possible temporary tax cut to combat the business slump.

As Eisenhower had done, Kennedy asked a $843 million postal rate increase to eliminate the Post Office deficit.

The President's defense program is due to reach Congress next week. Today's 6,000-word message dealt only with civilian matters. Many paragraphs were devoted to documenting Kennedy's pledge—made in his State of the Union message—that his program would not unbalance the budget "of and by themselves."

"It is my determined purpose to be a prudent steward of the public funds—to obtain a dollar's

Laos, On the Way to Somewhere Else

No one in the western world can understand the webbed politics of Laos. Few in the eastern world understand it.

But everybody in the United States whose wealth has been going to this remote and undesirable country, manufactured out of postwar strife and Communist mischief, should be making guesses about its probable role in international politics.

The guessing might go like this:

That the United States, determined to keep Communist-led revolutionists from sewing up the new country when it was created out of Indo-Chinese chaos in 1949, set up a bridgehead for use if ideological warfare grew hotter. It did.

Then and now the outcome of events hinged on identity of the Laotian Communists—whether they were taking orders from the Soviet Union or Red China. Perhaps they were taking orders from both.

BUT IT WAS believed then that they were getting supplies from Russian sources, not Chinese sources. That put the United States and the Soviet Union against each other in Laos.

Later, there was evidence that the United States and the Chinese People's Republic were against each other in Laos. But now it is more likely that Red Chinese are being edged out by Red Russians.

Red Russians and Red Chinese are working the same side of the street as senior partners in the Communist Conspiracy. But few westerners ever have believed Russians and Chinese could get along together indefinitely. Sooner or later, the partners would try to do each other in.

LAOS OF ITSELF is unimportant in every respect but geography. It is on the way to somewhere else—from central Asia to Southeast Asia. Like Korea, it is one of those places whose possession has bearing on the possession of some other more important place. The United States does not want Laos to be possessed by either partner in the Communist Conspiracy.

The United States fought in Korea to keep the Japanese Islands out of Communist hands. The United States has been spending money and may have to fight in Laos to keep the wealth of Borneo, Sumatra and the rest of Southeast Asia from coming under Communist control.

What kind of Communist control—the Soviet Union, or the Chinese People's Republic? It must be assumed there is a difference, though both would like the United States to forget there is a difference, because both thrive on the chaos that follows war and the hatred that follows white men whenever they have recourse to violence against the colored races.

If they can tempt the United States and its associates in the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization to fight, they will win in the long run and then can fight each other. If the United States and SEATO can stave off open warfare, it will be a cruel disappointment to both Moscow and Peiping.

The U.N. Is Never Impersonal

The United Nations is in a process of evolution, like the United States. No one can be sure what form either will take in the long run, which is the exciting thing about them.

All other political structures have become standardized. Parliamentary government has been tested exhaustively in Britain and France. Dictatorship, either with or without a semblance of popular sanction, has been tried out under every conceivable circumstance. History reveals all that anyone needs to know about monarchy and despotism.

But the republic of the United States and the first widely supported world organization to protect peace by mutual security are still in the process of growing they are still evolving. And lately one aspect of the United Nations has been coming to the fore.

It is never impersonal.

Its agents and instrumentalities are human beings.

Its attempts to exert its authority must be made through men and women who have likes and dislikes, strengths and weaknesses. That was vividly demonstrated when the United Nations went into Korea. It has been demonstrated with opposite effect in Israel, where friction has been minimized.

The current demonstration is in the Congo Republic, where the United Nations is represented by Rajeshwar Dayal of India. This man has made himself hated, according to correspondents who have been on the scene to report what is actually happening. He does not have the confidence of the people he must work with to make a success of his mission.

It may not be his fault. But the fact is more important than the fault.

The United Nations needs a new kind of representative — a breed of diplomats never heard of before who will be selfless and without nationality, who will make friends among the good and enemies only among the evil, who will be endlessly patient and infinitely wise.

Dayal does not meet the specifications, according to those who have been weighing and measuring him.

Once Over

Superhighways are important but Mortimer Topblower has founded National Society for Preservation of the Restful Country Road. "Not an old homestead, trout brook, lily pond, sylvan dell, old swimming hole, colonial landmark, tree or shrub is safe any longer," he declared.

"It is impossible for a man in an auto to relax, enjoy the scenery and get home refreshed. He can drive all day and not hear a bird, see a field of cows, smell country cooking or observe a haystack, a barefoot boy, a waterfall or a covered bridge," Topblower went on. He is appealing to President Kennedy to supplement superhighway program with a Rescue-Some-Rural Roads Program.

Millions of autoists would get a kick out of country roads bearing such signs as "Drive Leisurely and Enjoy Your Trip," "Relax While in Motion," "Danger. Exit Onto Modern Superhighway Dead Ahead" and "One Mile To Modern Traffic. Get Out Crying Towel Now." He also suggests "If You Can't Endure Beauties of Nature Take Next Left To Modern Thruway" and "Sharp Breathless View 100 Yards. Enjoy It Without Effort."

We would add sign reading "You Won't Get There So Fast But You'll Be Happier En Route."

MR. TOPBLOWER holds extreme view that the bulldozer is a greater threat to Americans than the atomic bomb, and that the modern highway engineer should be controlled and perhaps suppressed if America the Beautiful is to be saved from extinction. He is for disarmament of steam-shovels, bulldozers, and rock-blasting crews, and would compel all superhighway boards to take out licenses good for six months only. "There may not be a missile gap between America and Russia, but there is a safe and sane country-road gap between U.S. and almost all countries. We are at the wrong end," he says. There are moments when he comes out for execution walls for engineers who bump off lovely old homes, slash up eye-filling sylvan glades, punch holes in picturesque hills and blast natural beauty off the earth in order to help wild-eyed motorists save time between hotdog stands.

Dore Schary, who has done it again with "The Devil's Advocate" on Broadway, came up the hard way almost simultaneously with Moss Hart and could write his own "Act One." He worked with Hart in lowly summer-camp jobs. He scaled heights in Hollywood, and instead of being licked by sudden drop from favor there, switched to legit theater and hit jackpot with "Sunrise at Campobello."

President Kennedy has ordered a pink coat just in case he follows foxes and hounds in Virginia. It will look funny to see a leader in pioneer movement going over the fences to the new frontier in pink and with a cry of "Yoicks." Far off greeting to Averell Harriman, "Mr. Gulliver, I presume." President has abolished 17 committees. Things had reached point where committee was being named to look into committee reports on committees.

CHIEF JUSTICE WARREN just celebrated 70th birthday. The birthday cake cutting was not done by a 54 decision, and there were no dissents.

John Day Jackson died last week. When only a few years out of college, he bought an honored but bankrupt newspaper in a five-newspaper city, New Haven, Conn., built it into one of the most successful papers in New England and acquired all the competitors. As a cub reporter we got our first job under him and we never knew a more dynamic publisher. He was high strung, tense, tireless and never seemed to relax but lived to be 92 and was on the job daily until the last year or two.

Michigan college professor, Dr. Charles Boas, has quit the classroom to run away with circus. He will perform as a clown all summer, returning to classes in winter. Few men have not felt urge to join a circus and many have come close to making the jump. Fear of ridicule has kept millions from abandoning business or profession in the belief more happiness could be found under the "big top" than in the highest job elsewhere. We hope Dr. Boas will have a wonderful time clowning with the circus and we think he will make a better teacher as result of his experience.

"I Hear Bob Kennedy Asked to Do the Autopsy"

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

They can build an electric brain (Computer), say the scientists, which will predict a depression and advise the government on its cure long before the unemployed fall from their jobs.

I tossed this one at Mr. Automation" himself, 34-year-old John Diebold, who invented the word when he was 26 and is today considered one of the world's authorities on the electronic brain. We had been sitting at one of those winter White Houses—a Harvard Club—discussing machines which run other machines and talk to each other. We had just heard that The Communications Workers of America president, Joe Beirne, had told a congressional hearing on automation he was worried by the effect of space satellites on employment in the telephone field.

Mr. Beirne had said, "There won't be one inch of wire from the earth to that satellite" which will be shot into space to relay communications, radio and television to all parts of the world. Beirne had asked the congressional group probing automation what would happen to the hundreds of thousands of people manufacturing wire. When I asked Diebold all this, he spoke of machines which could not only predict a dip in prosperity and a rise in the stock market but could write music, play chess and even had supplied missing words for the ancient Dead Sea scrolls.

HE HAD HEARD, at the same congressional committee, that automation would kill 20 million jobs. "That won't happen," said Diebold. "Instead we will see in 20 years a change in the type of work involved in 60 million jobs. Point is we're in for a rapid rate of change, not a rapid rate of job extinction."

Diebold spoke of the fear which swept through female switchboard operators when automatic dialing was introduced in 1919. "But, look now, not only does the Bell system today employ 182,000 operators for special calls but there would not be enough women in this land today—phone operators, housewives mothers and schoolteachers—to operate the phone system for even one hour if we relied on switchboard operators."

By the end of the '60s, said Diebold, there will be a greater volume of machine-to-machine communication with each other over the telephone wire lines than there will be voice communication. Vast new industries, such as this one, will be rocketing forth, making more jobs than those displaced by the Computer—the electronic brain.

THERE IS—for example, in a good-sized computer over 14 miles of wire and some 50,000 transistors and 65,000 diodes (tubes). True, there are only 30 of these big ones in use. But more than 300 are on order, 5,000 smaller ones are in operation and indications are that there will be 20,000 of these produced in the next four years.

The computing machines industry employment—covering 68 firms—now totals 103,000. A jump of more than 50 per cent in four years. But that's just the nerve center of a $10 billion electronic industry employing more than 700,000 people.

What we need to do is care for our jobless until then. Together, we should—and must—be able to do that.

The Computer is the brain. The electronics industry is the vast sprawling body of modern technology.

BY 1965, Diebold predicts, this business will total $22 billion. After that the sky, literally, is the limit.

"You ask me what automation can do to make jobs. Here are just a few instances of new techniques: There is a translating machine which soon will be able to scan a printed page of a Russian journal, translate it into English, abstract the vital facts and store it away in an 'autonic' memory to be retrieved by another machine when needed."

"There soon will be pushbutton electronic memory libraries for universities and hospitals and research labs. "It is now a technical reality; we can automatically guide automobiles over the roads. We have tested an experimental system. So it's really a question of economic feasibility."

"There are automatic landing systems for all aircraft (already in effect at London Airport) so we will not need to worry about such crashes as hit New York recently."

"There is automatic transmission of written messages where in a letter will get to a post office, be coded as to address by the clerk, automatically opened and read only by the machine's optical scanners, transmitted by cable, automatically reprinted and then sealed and delivered."

DIEBOLD SAID that labor and management might soon be bargaining with the advice of computers. That will be the day. But he insists that through it all will come millions of new jobs and changes in millions of the old ones and eventually, probably, little unemployment.

What we need to do is care for our jobless until then. Together, we should—and must—be able to do that.

Prominent in my ho-hum list of news events that happen over and over again and have no element of surprise are basketball bribery and injuries to the elbows of baseball pitchers over the age of 30.

I am working on a retractable TV aerial for use in parts of the country where maintenance of this item of 20th century equipment is a job for a steeplejack or a circus rigger, at comparable prices.

One of the things women do wrong with their hair is let hair stylists talk them into abandoning a becoming style in favor of something hideous that is currently very big among the poodle-walkers of Manhattan Island.

One theme runs through first-hand reports from the Congo with significant regularity—that the place is being doctored to distraction by political quacks from far-away places, many of them bearing credentials from the United Nations.

I continue to feel sorry for all the cartoonists, who have failed completely to do anything creditable with a caricature of John F. Kennedy. Because the young President has a strong face and a head of hair that's a caricature in itself, cartoonists are ending up with what looks like badly done portraits, instead of cleverly drawn caricatures.

An extra-quick way to pick up

It is my safety theory about automobiles that they should not be driven faster than their driver can keep them under control if he needs to stop in a hurry—and I shudder when I think what would happen to a multi-wheeled truck rambling along at more than 50 miles an hour.

I intend to keep count some week of the drivers and cars I meet each morning on my way to town. It is my guess that in a space of eight miles of suburban highway I must meet two dozen of the same people each morning going to work in the opposite direction.

Much as I enjoy tobacco, having tried it in every form except snuff, I find it impossible to take tobacco addition in my stride because I regard it as the same problem as addiction to alcohol and forbidden narcotics.

Remaking The World

By DAVID LAWRENCE

U. S. Asked To Embark on Big Giving Program

The administration's program of foreign aid, as submitted to Congress, has given to many members the impression that President Kennedy is hopelessly undertaking the task of remaking, if not running, the world. He has asked for a $4 billion appropriation this year, to be used wherever the administration sees fit to use it. In addition, he requests authorization to spend several billion dollars over the next four years.

Congress is not to be asked to pass specifically on which depressed areas in the world are to be given American taxpayers' money. All this is to be taken care of by a bureaucracy in Washington.

No information is available as to how an agency of the United States is to sit in judgment of the national growth of each country and decide whether that country's efforts to help itself are adequate or whether aid tendered by this country is being used to maximum advantage.

The whole program is portrayed as a gesture of good will based on altruism. Even military assistance is to be separated from other aid, so that American efforts will appear not to be contaminated by any selfish interest, such as protecting the security of the United States though there are vague references in the President's message to the importance of that protection.

Here's one excerpt from the President's message which describes the far-reaching scope of the far-reaching scope of the foreign aid program:

"There exists, in the 1960s, an historic opportunity for a major economic assistance effort by the free industrialized nations to move more than half the people of the less-developed nations into self-sustained economic growth, while the rest move substantially closer to the day when they, too, will no longer have to depend on outside assistance."

One wonders what agency of the American government and what staff of economic experts are wise enough to determine, first of all, what a free industrialized nation really is and also when it moves into a cycle of self-sustained economic growth.

THE PRESIDENT gives abstractly the reasons why America must step in. He says:

"The answer is that there is no escaping our obligations: Our moral obligations as a wise leader and good neighbor in the interdependent community of free nations—our economic obligations as the wealthiest people in a world of largely poor people, as a nation no longer dependent upon the loans from abroad that once helped us develop our own economy—and our political obligations."

From the Files

5 YEARS AGO — Mrs. Herman Linder is a new member of the Coronet Club.

10 YEARS AGO — David Messersmith, student at Urbana College, has concluded a week's visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Messersmith.

25 YEARS AGO — Misses Dorothy Benzinger and Dorothy Astory, students at Sweet Briar and Wells college, respectively, are spending spring vacation at their homes.

as the single largest counter to the adversaries of freedom."

History does not, however, record a single instance in which any foreign government ever loaned money to finance the United States government. Funds did come from private investors abroad and lots of them lost their money in American railroad bankruptcies and in other enterprises. American and European investors had to learn the hard way.

The President does not clear up just how the United States is going to supervise the economic affairs of countries to which aid is given. He says:

"We must say to the less-developed nations, if they are willing to undertake necessary internal reform and self-help—and to the other industrialized nations if they are willing to undertake a much greater effort on a much broader scale—that we then intend during this coming decade of development to achieve a decisive turn-around in the fate of the less-developed world, looking toward the ultimate day when all nations can be self-reliant and when foreign aid will no longer be needed."

This is a sort of Utopian ideal, evidently urged by some of the theoreticians who now abound in government and who write as if generosity in foreign aid were something new. Yet $85 billion—an average of about $5.6 billion a year for 15 years—have been spent by the United States for foreign aid since the close of World War II.

MR. KENNEDY says the developing nations must "set for themselves sensible targets" and that these targets must be "based on balanced programs for their own economic, educational and social growth."

Then there is a tactful hint that "if planning assistance is required"—as if it might not be the United States is "prepared to respond."

A warning is given that our program "should not be based merely on reaction to Communist threats or short-term crises," and that our aid should be "conditioned on the recipients' ability and willingness to take the necessary steps" to reach the goals set.

After saying all this, the President's message has in it some contradictory references to communism. He declares:

"But in our time these new nations need help for a special reason. Without exception they are under Communist pressure. In many cases, that pressure is direct and military. In others, it takes the form of intense subversive activity designed to break down and supersede the new—and often frail—modern institutions they have thus far built."

Immediately thereafter, however, the President indicates that perhaps the emphasis on the fight against communism might be criticized and should be soft-pedaled. He adds:

"But the fundamental task of our foreign aid program in the '60s is not negatively to fight communism. Its fundamental task is to help make a historical demonstration that in the 20th century, as in the 19th—in the southern half of the globe as in the north—economic growth and political democracy can develop hand in hand."

The catch in all this is that nowhere does the President exact as a condition that countries helped by the United States must get rid of the Communist apparatus and effectively fight internal subversion instead of extolling neutralism as a virtue and American aid as a necessary obligation anyhow.

Bell of New Waterford, $15 and costs, failure to yield the right of way; Wayne B. Smith of RD 1, New Waterford, and Robert W. COUNTY BUYS AUTO

Columbiana County commissioners Thursday purchased a 1961 Plymouth station wagon for the County Home from the East Liverpool Central Service for $2,353.62, the low bid of four received. The transaction included the trade-in of a 1955 Buick sedan.

In other business the commissioners approved a request of the trustees of Elkrun Township to purchase a grader for use on their township roads, and they granted $300 to Madison Township for road maintenance.

HELD IN BURGLARY

CLEVELAND (AP) — Three Cleveland men have been charged with burglary after admitting taking $21,000 in furs from a downtown fur shop.

Held in city jail are Lorenzo C. Woodbury, 31, Milton J. Hunter, 21, and Robert Norman Wade, 39. Police said the men were arrested for stealing from the Schumacher Fur Co. store Sunday.

Greenisen Expected to Resign Post

Galen H. Greenisen of RD 3, Salem, is expected to present his resignation as director and vice president of the Columbiana County Agriculture Society when it meets Thursday in Lisbon.

Such action would be in compliance with a recent directive from Robert H. Terhune, Ohio director of agriculture, who declared Greenisen's positions as a society officer and county commissioner were incompatible.

A letter dated March 15 from Terhune to county society president William Maple of Kensington stated: "Your society, in permitting the above situation to exist, is violating the law of Ohio from an attorney general's opinion that a member of the board of commissioners may not at the same time hold the position of director of officer of a county or independent agricultural society."

"In view of the above, I therefore direct your society to remedy this situation within the next 15 days. In the event nothing is done, I will have to take the necessary legal measures available to me to insure its compliance," Terhune said.

County Commissioner Frank Wilson has been to Columbus several times and has publicly denounced Greenisen's posts as commissioner and fair board member as illegal.

Other officers and directors will be William I. Hershey, vice president; William H. Vordrey Jr., secretary - treasurer; Leonard L. Crossley, assistant treasurer; Thomas S. Brush, Joseph K. Vordrey and Mr. Strong, all officials of Brush-Moore, plus Loren M. Berry and Ronald B. Woodyard of Dayton.

Mr. Berry is chairman of the board and Mr. Woodyard is president and general manager of Skyland. Mr. Woodyard also will serve the new company as a consultant.

4 'A' Teams Open Columbus Action

'AA' Quintets To Meet Tonight, Winners To Clash on Saturday

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's most spectacular scholastic athletic event—the state high school basketball championships—opens today at Ohio State's 13,400-seat St. John Arena.

Eight teams, survivors of 954 which started down the treacherous tournament trail weeks ago, will battle it out today and Saturday.

The four Class A schools, those with fewer than 180 boys enrolled, open the action.

The program called for Ayersville of Defiance County, with a 28-0 record, to clash with Proctorville Fairland, 25-0, at 1:30 p.m. Youngstown Liberty, 26-1, had Madison South of near London, 23-2, as its 3:15 p.m. foe.

Tonight the big schools start settling the issue, with Urbana (24-0) going against Cleveland East Tech's 1958 and 1959 champions—and 1960 runners-up—at 7:30 p.m. Portsmouth, 1931 king and boasting a 20-3 mark, goes against Elyria (20-5) at 9:15 p.m.

The Class A victors in today's frays meet at 2 p.m. Saturday for the crown, and the Class AA winners have an 8 o'clock date that night to decide the title.

Ayersville, picked as No. 1 in the state in the final Associated Press Class A poll, is regarded as the team to beat in the smaller school division—but, at this stage, ratings and records mean little.

In Class AA the odds-fellows figure Portsmouth's rangy Trojans are the pick of the lot—but the river city team has climbed on the throne only once in eight previous tries.

Elyria could be tough after losing out in the regional qualifiers the last four years and finally going all the way this time for its first state meet appearance since 1936.

Urbana, sporting the lone clean record in Class AA, is intent on grabbing the laurels, so it can draw even with Salem Local, last year's Class A king which is only a mile or two from the Urbana school.

East Tech, tournament-tested and tough, could take it all, despite the loss of three starters via midseason graduation.

Madison South and Youngstown Liberty are making their first big bid. Ayersville won in Class A in 1957, boasts the coach of the year in Lee Himminger and has All-Ohio Dan Neff as its big gun. Proctorville has a few memories to erase—for in 1924 it scored only two points in its first state tournament, and only 18 in 1926 in its last try—for a tournament average of 10 points.

Both night sessions are sellouts and only a few ducats are left for the afternoon frays.

Hebert Leads In Golf Event

Fires Six Under Par In 1st Round

By WHITNEY MARTIN
Associated Press Sports Writer
MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Last week Billy Casper Jr. returned from a four-week absence to tie for the first-round lead in the St. Petersburg Open with a 63. Thursday Jay Hebert returned to the tour after a two weeks' rest and shot a six-under-par 66 for a one-stroke lead in the first round of the $25,000 Sunshine Open tournament over the Bayshore course.

Hebert was so rested he was sinking shots from traps and off the greens for his eagles and birdies. He was out in a sizzling 31, five-under-par on the 6,632 yard par 36-72 layout, and came in in 35.

Jack Fleck nearly matched the leader. Fleck came in with 34-33-67 to be alone in second place.

Five players, including Arnold Palmer, leading money winner last year who passed up the St. Petersburg tournament, were tied in the 68 bracket. The others were the veteran Julius Boros, George Bayer, Bob Brue and Tom Garriety.

Gary Player, leading money winner on the 1961 tour, was tied at 69 with Bob Goalby, winner of the St. Petersburg event with a 23-under-par 261; Dave Marr, Frank Boynton and Dan Sikes.

Sam Snead came in with a 70. The 70 bracket was jammed with 14 players, including Art Wall Jr., Casper, Mike Souchak, Ted Kroll and Dave Ragan.

The field will be cut to the low 70 pros and ties after 36 holes and the low 60 pros and ties after 54 holes Saturday, with the 10 amateurs playing all four rounds.

Pittsburgh's 20-Hit Attack Overwhelms Phillies 15-9

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

They don't strut or swagger, but the fierce pride and enthusiasm that carried the world champion Pittsburgh Pirates to the top last year underscores their imposing 11-3 exhibition record.

Dick Groat, shortstop for the Bucs and the National League batting champion, puts it this way. "We take tremendous pride in the pennant and the World Series. There is every bit as much enthusiasm in camp as there was last year."

His mates are content to do their talking on the playing field where they made Philadelphia victim No. 11 Thursday. Joe Christopher's 4-for-4 performance paced a 20-hit attack that overwhelmed the Phils 15-9.

The Boston Red Sox brought the American League's best record to 8-3 with an 11-7 triumph over the Chicago Cubs, and the streaking Baltimore Orioles won their sixth straight by beating New York 4-3.

In other games, Minnesota edged the Los Angeles Dodgers main squad 5-4, the Dodgers' B team nipped Washington 8-7, the Chicago White Sox defeated Milwaukee 3-2, St. Louis whipped Detroit 6-5, Cincinnati got by Kansas City 4-3 and San Francisco belted the Los Angeles Angels 13-4.

The Pirates won it despite a five-homer outburst—four off ace Vern Law—by the Phils. Jim Coker connected twice and Bob Malkmus, Johnny Callison and Bob Sadowski once each. Christopher had a pair of singles, a triple and a homer for Pittsburgh.

Pumpsie Green's bases-loaded double drove in three runs in the eighth inning as the Red Sox came from behind to overtake the Cubs. Green and Frank Malzone, who hit a two-run homer in the third, each drove in three Boston runs.

Marv Breeding's sixth-inning homer with Russ Snyder aboard was the clincher for the Orioles. Skinny Brown, touched by Mickey Mantle's fifth homer, gave up all three Yankee runs.

Sandy Koufax pitched no-hit ball in a seven-inning stint for the Dodgers' main squad. But ninth-inning homers by Earl Battey, with two on, and pinch hitter Lenny Green, with one on, brought the Twins from behind. Don Demeter homered for Los Angeles.

Tommy Davis singled Wally Moon home with the winning run as the Dodgers' B team scored three in the ninth to whip the Senators. Al Smith's sixth-inning home run was the clincher for the White Sox, as Bill Pierce checked the Braves on five hits in a six-inning workout.

The Cards beat the Tigers when Billy Bruton dropped a fly ball and permitted the tying and winning runs to score in the eighth inning. The Reds scored all their runs on home runs against the A's with Vada Pinson slamming two solo shots and Chico Cardenas hitting a one-on homer.

Willie McCovey accounted for four RBI with a homer, triple and single in a 19-hit Giants' offensive that subdued the Angels.

Post Office Eljer Winners In Volleyball

In final second round adult volleyball games Thursday night in the Memorial Building, Post Office and Eljer each took two of three games from Bliss and Hunt Plungers respectively. Deming forfeited three games to Electric Furnace Office.

Post Office took its last two games 15-6 and 15-3 after dropping the first game to the Bliss outfit 15-4. Eljer was successful over Hunt Plungers 15-3 in the first game and 14-12 in the last, but dropped the middle contest 15-8.

Deming failed to show up for its games with Electric Furnace Office and consequently forfeited all three games.

A playoff in the volleyball loop will not be necessary this year since the Kiwanis team won both the first and second round team standings championships. The Kiwanis netters grabbed the first round 31-2 and wound up the second round at 30-3.

The final second round standings are as follows:

Thompson Leads In Bowling Tourney

DETROIT (AP)—The American Bowling Congress tournament still resists any 700 firing.

Al Thompson, 22-year-old professional from Cleveland, came the closest with a 682 series for first place in the Classic Division singles Thursday.

Thompson went ahead of Dick Volling, St. Louis, leader for two days with 668, when he rolled games of 248, 209 and 225. A 6-7 split in the last game cost him the first 700 series of the 20-day-old tournament.

Paul Breudigam, 43, of Cleveland, rolled the high individual game in the team event thus far, a 278.

The Cards beat the Tigers when Billy Bruton dropped a fly ball and permitted the tying and winning runs to score in the eighth inning. The Reds scored all their runs on home runs against the A's with Vada Pinson slamming two solo shots and Chico Cardenas hitting a one-on homer.

Willie McCovey accounted for four RBI with a homer, triple and single in a 19-hit Giants' offensive that subdued the Angels.

Bucks Figured To Meet Cincy Saturday for NCAA Championship

By SKIPPER PATRICK
Associated Press Sports Writer

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Ohio State's mighty Buckeyes enter the semifinal stage of their quest for a second straight National Collegiate (NCAA) basketball crown in a game with the capable St. Joseph's (Pa) Hawks tonight.

The odds — 14 points — point to success for All-America Jerry Lucas and the defending champion Buckeyes, who carry a 31-game winning streak and their No. 1 national ranking into the fray.

The second semifinal matches the second-ranked Cincinnati Bearcats (25-3) against the Utah Redmen (23-6).

If Ohio State and Cincinnati, which is a 6-point favorite, live up to their billing, Saturday night's finals will be the first of the NCAA's 23 basketball tournaments matching two teams from one state.

Cincinnati and Ohio State haven't met in basketball since 1922.

Municipal Auditorium's 10,500-seat arena has been sold out for weeks. The championship game will be televised locally and by a number of stations in the areas from which the finalists come.

St. Joseph's (24-4) which has a 15-game winning streak going, could be the sleeper in the final round.

The Hawks did not rank among the leaders nationally in any use of the statistics, but averaged 80 points per game against 70 for their foes. They have a fine scorer in 6-6 Jack Egan who has a 21.7 average.

St. Joseph will send two sophomores and three seniors against the all-veteran Buckeyes. The rookies are James Lynam, smallest man in the tournament at 5-3, and 6-foot Bill Hoy. Lynam has averaged 10.7 points a game, Hoy 12.

The Hawks' front line of Egan (6-6), Frank Majewski (6-3) and Vince Kempton (6-8) complements a team average of 62½, shortest of the four finalists.

The Cincinnati-Utah game pits the Bearcats' balance and rebounding power against the Utes' sharp shooting, led by Billy The Hill McGill, who has a 27.7 average.

Cincinnati has a great rebounding trio in Bob Wiesenhahn (6-4), Paul Hogue (6-9) and Tom Thacker, a high jumping 6-2 sophomore.

Ohio State, with Lucas averaging 24.6 points per game, has a team average of 85.5 for its 26 outings. Utah has averaged 81.1. St. Joseph's 80 and Cincinnati 75. Cincinnati has the best defensive average, however, 60.4, compared to Ohio State's 65.4, Utah's 67.9 and St. Joseph's 70.

Davidson Selected to Play In North-South Basketball Tilt

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Fifteen players, including all five Class AA Associated Press All-Ohio stars, were selected Thursday night to appear in the fourth annual North-South high school basketball game at Cuyahoga Falls, June 17.

The player and coaching selections were made by the Ohio High School Basketball Coaches Association, with at least one player coming from each of the association's 16 districts.

One director, Bob Sheskey of Nelsonville, failed to appear at the annual session, and the player and alternate from his area will be named later.

Here are the selections:

Northern All-Stars
Coaches: Dale Reichenbach of Elyria and Pete Prokop of Youngstown Liberty.

Players: Ken Cunningham, East Liverpool Don Davidson, Salem; Bob Dwors, Mayfield; Tom Rudolph, Sandusky; Claude Graves, St. Marys; Lee Johnson, Elyria; Charles Burns, Kent Roosevelt; Jim Cox, Toledo Macomber.

Southern All-Stars
Coaches: George Heller of Portsmouth and Columbus Hines of New Lebanon Dixie.

Players: Jim Brown, Martins Ferry; Don Rolfe, Harrison; Tom Bowman, Columbus Linden McKinley; Mike Haley, Portsmouth; Gail Evans, Urbana; L. C. Snow, Dayton Roosevelt; Jim Reed, Baltimore Liberty Union.

The northern coaches will select one player, and the Cuyahoga Falls sponsors two, one from each class, to fill out the up-state squad. The southern mentors will pick two, one from each class, and the 11th will be the top-ranking player on the All-Ohio not previously named.

The mentors adopted a resolution urging the state association to have an early draw made by Commissioner W. J. McConnell for the regional and state tournaments, so winners would know their future opponents prior to the Sunday before the games. They also urged that, in all scholastic games, full suits of a single color be worn, instead of shirts and trunks of different hues.

Branch McCracken of Indiana, announced previously as the principal speaker for the clinic to be held in connection with the North-South game, has withdrawn. He'll be replaced by Bill Rohr of North-western.

This will be the last of the all-star games, unless the state association reverses its field and grants approval for further contests.

Cleveland, Denver Winners In AAU Quarterfinal Tilts

By FRANK PITMAN

DENVER (AP)—Top-seeded Denver, reduced by injuries to an eight-man squad, plays San Francisco Olympic club and Cleveland's co-favorites meet New Rochelle, N.Y., in the semifinals tonight of the 54th annual National AAU Basketball Tournament.

Denver and Cleveland breezed through their quarterfinal opposition Thursday night but New Rochelle, strengthened by the addition of St. John's Tony Jackson, was hard-pressed to conquer Bartlesville, Okla., 87-84, and San Francisco battled all the way before downing pesky Des Moines 96-86.

Cleveland crushed Burien, Wash., 120-90 and Denver waltzed by Seattle 107-81.

Despite the loss of George Bon Salle, who broke an elbow in a second round game, and other personnel shortages, Denver rules a slight favorite over the Olympic Club of San Francisco Bay area collegians, including St. Mary's Tom Meschery.

Cleveland, champion of the National Basketball League, also rates a slight nod over New Rochelle.

Dan Swartz, the NBL's leading scorer, flipped in 33 points in guiding Cleveland past the Burien team of former Washington State collegians.

Celtics Roll Over Nats 133-110

BOSTON (AP)—"I'm very disappointed, but I'm not discouraged," Syracuse Coach Alex Hannum said after his Nats' 133-110 defeat by the Boston Celtics.

"We got beat by the great Celtics," Hannum said. "What else can you say."

The Celtics victory Thursday night gave them a 2-1 lead in the best-of-seven Eastern Division National Basketball Association playoff. The series switches to Syracuse Saturday afternoon for a nationally televised (NBC) game.

"Now we just have to win that one at home and it's reduced to a best of three situation," Hannum said. "The smaller the series the better chance the underdog has of pulling an upset."

The Western Division playoff, tied at 1-1 between St. Louis and Los Angeles, resumes in Los Angeles tonight. Los Angeles won the first of two games played in St. Louis, the Hawks the second.

The Doctor Says

By DR. H. T. HYMAN

Warn Doctor of Allergy to Injection

Here are answers to several inquiries of some urgency.

Q — "I had a serum injection five months ago and it gave me a reaction of hives that lasted almost two weeks. Since then my fingers have become numb although they seemed perfectly normal before the injection. Could this numbness be from the serum? How long does a serum reaction last?"

Dr. H. T. Hyman

A — Nerve injury (neuritis) may be part of a serum reaction. And, if so, it is unlikely that its consequences, numbness in this case, will improve appreciably after five months. What is of greater importance, however, is the urgent need for you to know that your serum allergy is also permanent. If you don't give warning of this allergy before you receive an injection of any kind, you may suffer a more severe reaction at your next exposure, one that might even prove fatal.

Q — "My father-in-law has prostate trouble and fears to go to a doctor because he believes that a prostate operation caused cancer in several of his friends. Is this true?"

A — Certainly not. It may well be that his friends were afflicted with prostatic cancer. But you may assure him that the malignancy was present before operation. It could not have been caused by it.

Q — "My son, during World War II service, was in a motorcycle accident and got a bump on the right side of his head near the temple. A few years after his discharge, he began getting headaches and acting kind of peculiar. Every once in a while his mind would go blank and he would talk incoherently. A year ago he had an epileptic attack and we took him to the hospital where they found a scar pressing on his brain in the exact spot where he hurt his head in service. Now they want to do an operation. Do you think this will help him? Is it safe?"

A — By all means persuade your son to have the operation performed. In competent hands, as he would be at a veteran's hospital, the operation involves little risk and has great prospect for benefit. By far the greater risk would be to refuse operation.

Q — "Is injection treatment for hernia as practical as surgery? Operations scare me. So many of my friends have all kinds of troubles. And sometimes the hernia comes back anyway."

A — I don't know how scared you are of a hernia operation but it's nothing to the fright that seizes me when I think of injection treatment. You must realize that repair of a hernia, which is a defect of the abdominal wall, requires careful handling under direct vision. Injection treatment is a blind procedure in which the operator has to rely solely on his sense of touch. When he injects the irritant, he has very little idea of where it all goes and just what it's going to do. If you want to risk this sort of treatment, no one can stop you. But, as for me, I want no part of it.

Dear Reader: Dr. Hyman appreciates your comments and questions but regrets that the heavy volume of his mail doesn't permit him to answer each individual letter or post card. However, he will comment in columns like the above upon matters of general or unusual interest.

Secret of Longevity

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Well, boys, I've learned the secret of longevity.

If you want to live longer, here's the real inside tip: Treat yourself as a woman does herself—with respect and confidence.

Many men in this world kill themselves through boredom. Very few women do.

The difference is that men find themselves less exciting to themselves than women do to themselves.

A woman enjoys an endless fascination in paying attention to herself. She physically and mentally enjoys spending hours fixing her toenails and her fingernails, in making rubber-mouth faces at herself in the mirror as she adjusts her lipstick or trims an errant eyebrow.

She stares into that mirror and what she sees is not a homely lump of feminine misfortune, a girldle-itchy lump of womanhood, but a fair and ravishing Cinderella, eager to be recognized by a rich prince.

She has the art of kidding herself. She sees herself not as she is, but as she dreams herself to be.

It is this art that separates the girls from the boys. The pity that kind-hearted men feel toward a homely girl is largely wasted. The homelier a woman is the more arrogant sometimes is her assumption that she has a special and individual kind of appeal that stamps her apart.

If her nose be long and her legs be skinny, she consoles herself with the idea her bust is remarkable or her hair has a ruinous beauty.

It is this ability to kid themselves that makes many women able to outlive most men.

The daily need of shaving is what destroys a lot of men in their prime. They look in the mirror with a terrible sense of masculine honesty.

"Don't tell me that pot-bellied, bald monstrosity I see before me is the real me! Oh, no! Oh, no!"

And many of them expire right there on the bathroom floor, or become hopeless cripples of personal recognition. They give up. The man who wants to last must be able to go into the bathroom in the morning, look at himself in the mirror, thump himself on a flabby stomach and say: "Well, Tarzan, the old jungle telegraph is beating out another breezy message for mankind."

He must be able to flex his scanty muscles approvingly and brood pleasantly over what the world heavyweight boxing picture might be if he wasn't 30 years too late to beat Jack Dempsey and 20 pounds too proud to pick on Floyd Patterson.

He must, as he shaves, be able to say to himself in the mirror: "What a remarkable and memorable gaze. What character in that lofty forehead. What steadfast purpose in that chin (all those chins!). What a firmness of decision in that chisel-chipped profile!"

"The Lord save all impressionable women on this day. Oh, well, I'd better hurry or I'll miss the bus to work."

"So long for now you wonderful, wonderful fellow. See you tomorrow. Same time, same mirror."

It's this kind of self-approbation that keeps women alive so long. It could do the same thing for men.

Loans Aid Farmers

The farm housing loan program of the Farmers Home Administration is picking up new momentum, not only throughout the nation, but here in Columbiana County.

That's the word from Marion Marquart, county supervisor in charge of the agency's lending program here. He said this renewed farm housing loan activity follows the early February announcement that an additional $50 million is now available to the Farmers Home Administration for its 4 percent loans to farm owners to build or repair farm houses and essential farm buildings. Such a loan may extend over a 33-year period.

The new loan money broke up a log jam of applications that were being held because funds had been exhausted. Nationwide, loans are being processed at the rate of about $5 million a month but indications point to a probable doubling of that pace, he said.

In this area Mr. Marquart said he looks for the main demand to continue to be for loans for new construction, although farm owners may need the credit to repair or remodel dwellings, put in modern kitchens, install pressure water supply systems, central heating, bathrooms, and other conveniences. Other uses include building, repairing, or modernizing barns, dairy and poultry facilities, and other farm service buildings. Farm owners find much of this type of construction necessary to cope with changing agricultural conditions.

Mr. Marquart pointed out that byproducts of this loan program include employment of carpenters and other skilled and unskilled labor, and increased business for concerns that handle building materials and equipment items.

Eligible to borrow are owners of farms that annually will produce at least $400 worth of commodities for sale or home use based on 1944 prices, but who cannot be adequately financed through other sources.

The Farmers Home Administration office serving Columbiana County is located at 28½ Public Square, Carrollton.
